

Librarian's Report
July 11, 2019

- The first summer story hour began yesterday, Wed, July 10th. Alyssa Thompson read the stories and Meg Boone assisted with the craft.
- The mystery book club will be meeting this Saturday at 11:00 and discussing The Book of Killowen.
- The CW Mars bill has arrived and was paid out of the town dues/membership account. We now have a negative amount in that line item.
- We have not yet heard about reimbursements for the Easter Egg Hunt or the Mother's Day Tea. Colleen Curis and I attempted to go to this month's cultural council meeting, but it was cancelled because of lack of needed members attending.
- We did get one more cultural council grant for a Museum of Science traveling program. Do you want us to book?
- The wall clock needs new batteries. Meg tried to take it down and a small crack resulted. She left a note asking if she should replace the cover or clock.
- The Unibank grant is close to finish. It is for a movie night every other night at the library with a librarian supervising, popcorn treats, and a discussion after the movie. I will be calling Unibank next week to find out who the appropriate person is to submit the application to for consideration.
